Hello Jaguar Nation,

Thank you for a great first week of school! It has been wonderful to see our students again, we have missed them all so much!

I am writing to you today to ask for your continued patience, and understanding during this unique time in education. Our AULCS teams of teachers, teaching assistants, main office, custodial, cafeteria, and every member of our AULCS family has worked tirelessly to prepare for a year where we are offering a variety of learning modalities, meeting academic and social emotional needs in new ways, and keeping our students safe following CDC and Health Department guidelines. This year is not only a new experience for your students and your families, but also for our staff members and their families.

Be assured, you have the best team of professionals working with and for your students. Our caring and dedicated staff will do all they can to ensure your child will show academic mastery and have fun while doing. We appreciate your continued support and flexibility as we continue navigating through this school year as guidelines and safety precautions are changing regularly.

Thank you for being an integral part of our team. Together we will make this year a spectacular one for our students! GO JAGUARS!

Sincerely,

Doc Liz
